

REVISED ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A Hologram Projector is employed at Airports or Fisheries to keep bird species from either being a hazard to flight or predating the resource species of the Fishery. Images can be projected in the air which show either: a Hologram grid of wires over the property which wards off most birds, a Hologram of the undesired species in a Terror Position (wings askew, head moving jerkily) which will deter the birds, or a Hologram of a Raptor circling over the property which is a deterrent as well. The Holographic displays may be suspended during aircraft take-off or landing, if so desired.
